NTRC Recognition and Awards Ceremony

St. George's, February 1, 2011 – Nine persons were honoured for their contribution to the establishment and achievement of the National Telecommunications Regulatory Commission (NTRC), at a Recognition and Awards Ceremony held at the Flamboyant Hotel and Villas on Friday, 28th January, 2011.

Awards were presented to Senator Gregory Bowen, the former Minister for Works, Physical Development and Public Utilities with responsibilities for telecommunications, for his vision, leadership and establishment of the NTRC and Honourable Joseph Gilbert, Minister for Works, Physical Development and Public Utilities with responsibilities for telecommunications, for his leadership and commitment to the Commission. Both Ministers served on the ECTEL Council of Ministers.

The other recipients were Dr. Spencer Thomas, long standing Chairman of the NTRC, Mr. George Lashley, Commissioner of the NTRC, Mr. Joseph Charter and Mrs. Avril Trotman-Joseph, former Commissioners of the NTRC, Mr. Robert Findlay, former Director of the NTRC and Ms. Hazel Ann Lewis and Mr. Sean Francis, staff of the NTRC.

The Awards were presented by the Excellency Sir Carlyle Glean, Governor General.

Twenty-three persons were also publicly acknowledged for their contribution to the NTRC. This list included former and present members of staff and Commissioners of the NTRC.

Honourable Tillman Thomas, Prime Minister, delivered the feature address.

The recognition and awards ceremony culminated the programme of activities in observance of the 10th anniversary of the NTRC which was celebrated under the theme: “Recognising and Celebrating Achievements – 10 Years of the Continuous Growth in the ICT Sector.”
